The summing up of the work performed bythe"Whitewash commission" has resulted in this: They have called before them the accomplies of the men who are responsible for the murder of our innocent soldiers and asked them if they are guilty. They have answered no. As the commission has no authority to administer an oath there will be no chance to prosecute the guilty for perjury. A Congress not governed by those who are responsible for the crimes of the Administration is the only means of ever getting at the facts.

If the big four Republican zebras Hanns, Alger, Quay and Platt, succeed in corrupting enough voters to secure the Fifty-sixth Congress, there will be no more government by the people. Woman's Mission.

Successful competition in any field depends on physical health.

AMILIAR questions about woman's future are constantly Shall women vote? Shall they practice law? Shall they compete with men in every field?
Whatever woman's mission may finally be declared to be, it is certain that something must be done for her physical health.

Ignorance, superstition and mystery sur-round woman's delicate organism. Heroic efforts to endure pain is part of woman's oreed. Many women's lives are a constant struggle with lassitude; many are violently ill without apparent cause, and few indeed are in normal health.

This is all wrong and might be different if women would follow Dr. Hartman's advice. Perhaps the most practical printed talk to women to be found anywhere is in Dr. Hartman's book called "Health and Beauty," which the Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O., will mail free to women only. It is certain that Dr. Hartman's Peru-na has proved a perfect boon for women's diseases of the pelvic organs. It treats them scientifically and cures them permanently. All druggists sell it.

GINIA.

One of the loveliest days of autumn I paid a visit to my old home-Lexagion, in the Valley of Virginia. The happiest years of my life went by while I was a resident of that little quiet college city. It is the seat of two great schools—the University of Washington and Lee and the Southern West Point, the Virginia Military College The society was classic and clever. It has been a joy towards God that His kind France has demanded reparation hand pointed my bewildered footsteps beyond the Blue Ridge.

CHARMING SOCIETY.

Within the small circuit of that minor Virginia city were gathered a society unmatched in the south. Not beyond pistol shot of my own cottage was the residence of the feremost captain of the world-Robert E. Lee. There was Maury, who had plotted paths across the seas. a mighty host of warriors. Now, amid aca demie groves he mingled with bands of boys, busy with books.

HOT BLOOD QUICK TO BOIL.

There was an event during his sixteenth year that discovered to Lee how hot his blood could become. And from that hour he had set himself the task to keep vigils over that explosive temper. It has gone out that he was too mild for a warrior. In his book Longstreet lifted a corner of the curtain and let us see Lee in a campaign, faculty, he leaned to mercy in matter reported that the faulty fellow had boasted that his tather's position would protect him. At once the tone of Lee changed. The boy was invited o an interview. When he came out it was certain he had not met an indulgent College President. His eyes were moist and red.

When the information came to General Lee of the "Lost Dispatch," causing the drawn battle of Antietam (Sharpsburg) and preventing the capture of Washington, his indignation broke over all bounds. And his staff "retired in good order" from his pres ence till the surging passion ebbed. The officer, a Major General, whose criminal carelessness gave McClellan Lee's order, had to be sent away from the Army of Northern Virginia. Lee submitted to authority, while Mr. Davis protected his friend and schoolmats. General Lee after the war to'd Rev. NEGRO NEWSPAPER SENTIMENT.

The following editorial from the negro paper, the Record, of this afternoon, is cousidered, when read | etwe n the lines, a positive indication that the negroes do not consider the question of a county ticket finally settled. The Record printed the infamous editorial reflecting on the whi e women of the State. The article that appeared this evening is as follows:

Saturday, at 12 M., was the time uppoited for the ho'di g of the county convention and nomination of county fficials. At 12 o'clock the delegates went in o caucus, and after much peechmaking and resolving it was lecided not to nominate a ticket at this time; consequently, there was no geed for calling the convention tociether It was rumored around (the hty that the convention, or some one, cad decided not to put up a ticket for eounty officers at all, but conceded tverything to the Democrats. sried to ascertain the truth of this itatement, but could not. The mornng papers, however, came out yester-day with the announcement that there would be no Republican ticket in the field, and that everything had been arranged by the Governor; so we presume the County Committee must have met later Saturday evening, as nothing of this nature had been decided upon at the close of the caucus.
